Learn more about integrating livestock onto row crop operations. Greg will host and provide insights on his integrated row-crop operation, which has shown: increased fertility, decreased inputs, and better economic return. This event will feature Rick Bieber from Fields of Sinsinawa. He will speak on his extensive experience with cover cropping, animal integration, and a new Carbon Benchmarking Project developed in partnership with the University of Wisconsin. The team will discuss outcomes, alternative row trials, forage blends crafted for cattle gains, non-GMO hybrid selection, and water quality.
